

IGNORANCE FOE OF AMERICANISM

Minnesota Educator Tells of Causes of Bolshevism.

TEACHERS IN SESSION

Northeastern Association in Annual Meeting—Governor Brought to Speak.

Knowing what you think without hearing what you say has become the old, but previously unappreciated, of freedom of speech. It was one of the pointed remarks of a Dr. Coffman, head of the school of education at the University of Minnesota, who delivered the principal address at the general session of the northeastern educational association, which is holding its 15th annual convention in Tulsa.

"One blackguarding editor is more dangerous to the freedom of the press than a hundred of the press," he said. "The political, social, and educational problems must be made a national matter instead of a local or local consideration, according to Dr. Coffman in his discussion of education in America."

Bolshevism Causes

"Bolshevism in Siberia has three chief causes," Dr. Coffman said. "The first cause is the lack of a national spirit, the second cause is the lack of a national spirit, the third cause is the lack of a national spirit."

A national issue must be made in the fight against Bolshevism, the speaker said. He expressed the hope that in the future there would be as many night schools for the education of adults who worked in the day time as there are day schools for children.

All of the responsibilities for the character of the coming citizens do not rest on the schools alone, he said. The home and the state must do their part. He regretted the lack of discipline in the average American home. "Disobedience, noise and impudence from the children have made the average American parents the most patient and amiable people in the world. They become submissive."

BOOZE PROVES ONLY COFFEE

Police Get Big Hand But "Liquor" Turns out Not to Have Kick

All in all, said the police, and all that is left is "liquor" and "liquor" is not a kick. At least that is the conclusion from a discovery of the police yesterday when they seized what was thought to be a large quantity of liquor. It later developed that the highly colored contents proved to be only coffee with perhaps enough "L. W. Harper" to give it a sour taste.

The police went to 111 West Third on an official mission. Not thinking of making a booze raid they discovered a sack containing what was supposed to be potatoes. A high content of "L. W. Harper" instead and the seizure was made. Seven more sacks were found with the same contents.

The later discovery was the occasion of much practical joking, and not a few were the victims when they got a bottle or two and sampled the "liquor."

It was announced by the Mitchell Fleming Undertaking company yesterday.

Love in Critical Condition

Jack Love, 22, clerk for the World Clothing company, 242 South Main, who is in a local hospital suffering from a gun shot wound inflicted by R. D. Gordon, house detective of the Brady hotel, when Love rushed at him with an open knife after attempting to stab the assistant hotel manager Thursday afternoon, was reported in a very critical condition by hospital attendants late last night.
